Our team of copy editors reads and posts most of what you see on the websites for National Catholic Reporter and Global Sisters Report (the NCR project focusing on women religious). The Copy Desk Daily provides insight on recommended news and opinion articles that have crossed our desks on their way to you.

"The Catholic Church leadership has been treating us as outcasts after we went public against Bishop Franco Mulakkal [of Jalandhar]. Even the Vatican has not bothered to acknowledge our complaints." Five nuns in India are supporting a former superior general who was allegedly raped by a bishop. They have endured pressure from congregational leadership, ridicule from fellow sisters and what seems to be apathy from the Vatican.

Speaking of the summit, Jefferson City, Missouri, Bishop W. Shawn McKnight tells NCR, "The validity and the success of the summit will depend on the concrete outcomes," McKnight, 50, said he believes action is necessary. "Right now that's what people want to see." He and other newer, younger bishops sound off about accountability.
